Shaker Recruitment Advertising & Communications Deploys Analytics Dashboards from WANTED Technologies

Montreal, November 2, 2006 – WANTED Technologies (TSX-V: WAN) announces today that it has been selected by Shaker Recruitment Advertising & Communications to provide their sales team with WANTED's recruitment advertising activity Web-based dashboards.

Providing recruitment advertising and corporate communications strategies to clients in various industries, Shaker operates sales offices throughout the US. Numerous sales representatives will have access to WANTED Analytics, offering them a company-specific snapshot of online employment advertising.

"One of the aspects we love about WANTED's solutions is the competitive intelligence information," said Cathy Shaker Breit, Executive Vice President of Client Services. "We provide this data to our clients, to help them better understand their industry's hiring activity, as well as to our own sales and management teams to steer their strategic planning."

In addition to WANTED Analytics, Shaker will receive monthly market share and industry reports for specific regions throughout the country.

About Shaker Recruitment Advertising & Communications
